Subdivision 7. Building Design (Architecture).

- A. Intent. The character of development in Hermantown varies widely across the city. However, there are some design traditions used over the city's history that have helped establish a design context. Many of these traditions are expressed by buildings constructed by early settlers and the historic Jackson Project buildings that can still be found in the city. Developers are not expected to imitate the design of early buildings. Rather, they should take inspiration from and respect traditions such as:
1. Authenticity. Buildings reflected the best design practices of the time and location, including materials and ways of building.
 2. Simplicity. Buildings and other structures were generally simple in their design.
 3. Durability. Buildings and structures were made to last.
 4. Functionality. Buildings and other structures expressed their functions clearly.
 5. Integrity of design. Buildings had simple design concepts, featuring muted colors, simple geometric designs, and simple materials.

6. Integrated site planning. The site is designed to be compatible with the building, nearby properties, neighborhood, and natural features, and to minimize impact on vehicular and pedestrian traffic.
- B. Materials. The following standards shall apply to all sides of any building and all sides of a building shall be finished with the same materials.
1. The primary materials shall consist of the following or a combination the following wood, brick, architectural concrete panels, natural stone, stone panels, architectural metal, E.I.F.S. (exterior insulations and finish systems) or stucco.

 - ii. Wood materials shall be of high quality and incorporate or display the natural grain or texture of the material.
 2. Prohibited primary building materials include, Masonite, asphaltic exterior wall or roof material, aluminum or steel siding, non-architectural sheet metal, non-textured concrete block, and vinyl.
 3. The materials listed in (1) and (2) above may be used as building trim or ornamental design features.
- C. Color. Color is an integral element of the overall design and must include the following:
1. A coordinated palette of colors shall be created for each development. If a development is part of a phased in project the palette of each phase must be compatible with the overall development.
 2. Set the color theme by choosing the color for the material with the most area. This will set the tone for the rest of the colors.
 3. The number of color choices in each development shall be limited. Generally, there is a wall color, trim color, accent color, and roof color.
 4. Use color variations to break up the mass of a building and provide visual interest.
- D. Form and mass. Buildings and structures shall be designed to avoid blank facades, particularly those that face streets and public spaces. Storefront windows, doors, entries, transoms, awnings, cornice treatments, and other architectural features shall be incorporated to add visual interest.

Walkways and parking lots shall be designed so that pedestrians do not have to cross parking aisles and landscape islands to reach building entries. All internal walkways shall be distinguished from driving surfaces through the use of durable, low maintenance surface materials such as pavers, bricks, or scored concrete to enhance pedestrian safety and comfort, as well as the attractiveness of the walkways.
4. Parking lot landscaping. Parking lots shall include landscaping that accents the main entryways, frames major circulation aisles, and highlights pedestrian pathways.

Section 580 - Airport Zoning Overlay Safety Zones and Regulations

580.01 Purpose and Intent. The purpose and intent of this Ordinance (“Hermantown Airport Zoning Overlay Ordinance” or “HAZ00”) is to protect the public health, safety, order, convenience, prosperity, and general welfare, and for the promotion of the most appropriate use of land, it is necessary to prevent the creation or establishment of airport hazards for the citizens residing in the City of Hermantown.

580.02 Background. Certain properties within the City of Hermantown are subject to the requirements of the Duluth International Airport (“DIAP”) Zoning Ordinance (“Airport Zoning Ordinance”). The Airport Zoning Ordinance was created by the DIAP Airport Joint Zoning Board (JAZB). The purpose of the Airport Zoning Ordinance is to restrict those uses which may be hazardous to the operational safety of aircraft operating to and from the DIAP, and, to limit population and building density in the runway approach areas, thereby creating sufficient open space to protect life and property in case of an accident. The Airport Zoning Ordinance contemplated that the City of Hermantown would adopt amendments to its Zoning Ordinance that incorporates the applicable provisions of the Airport Zoning Ordinance. HAZ00 is intended to satisfy that requirement.

580.03 Airport Zoning Overlay Safety Zones. The following Airport Zoning Overlay Safety Zones are hereby established in the City of Hermantown:

580.04.1 All Safety Zones: No use shall be made of any land in any of the Airport Zoning Overlay Safety Zones which creates or causes interference with the operation of radio or electronic facilities on the airport or with radio or electronic communications between the airport and aircraft, makes it difficult for pilots to distinguish between airport lights and other lights, results in glare in the eyes of pilots using the airport, impairs visibility in the vicinity of the airport, or otherwise endangers the landing, taking off, or maneuvering of aircraft.

580.04.2 Safety Zone 1: Areas designated as Safety Zone 1 shall contain no buildings, temporary structures, exposed transmission lines, or other similar above ground land use structural hazards, and shall be restricted to those uses which will not create, attract, or bring together an assembly of persons thereon.
